TEXAS ELECTRICITY PROFESSIONALS ASSOCIATION AND INDUSTRY LEADERS TO CONVENE AT 2010 CONFERENCE

HOUSTON – Sept. 21, 2010 – The Texas Electricity Professionals Association (TEPA), a non-profit organization created and regulated by its members, will host 200 of the industry’s top executives, thought-leaders and policy makers on Nov. 11, at the prominent Hotel ZaZa in Houston, Texas, to discuss the latest news, policies and developments in the Texas electricity market.

The conference will feature key note speaker Dr. Ray Perryman, who is founder and president of The Perryman Group, an economic and financial analysis firm headquartered in Waco, Texas. With more than 20 years of experience, Dr. Perryman is widely regarded as one of the world’s most influential and innovative economists.

“It’s an honor to speak at the TEPA conference where the most skilled in their profession will share important policies and trends with their peers,” said Perryman. “This is a great chance for attendees to learn and understand what’s taking place in the energy market, and how the changes will affect them in the short and long term.”

Many industry issues will be discussed, including the Nodal transition, Smart Meter Technology, updates on Texas restructuring and the impacts of the current economy on electric deregulation in Texas. Other recognized experts to speak will include Jess Totten, director of Competitive Markets at PUCT, and Trip Doggett, the new president of ERCOT.

“It’s a privilege to have these prominent experts and thought-leaders all under one roof,” added JD Dodson, TEPA president and partner at Rapid Power Management. “With some of the most influential professionals coming to the conference, attendees will have the opportunity to tap into many of their great ideas and emerging trends regarding the electricity market.”

For hotel accommodations at the discounted TEPA rate, call (713) 526-1991 and ask for “In House Reservations.” The TEPA Group Rate will be $159 per night for a single or double room.
